Jacqueline qualified as a shiatsu practitioner with the Ohashi Institute in 1996 and as an acupuncturist at the College of Traditional Acupuncture in 1998 (Advanced License in 2002). Her interests centre around the treatment of women at all stages of their lives and the use of holistic methods in the recovery from substance misuse. Jacqueline worked at the Core Trust - a London-based drug and alcohol rehabilitation day centre - for many years as a practitioner and co-ordinator of complementary therapies and an assessor for NADA-UK. She is now a trainer and assessor for NADA GB in the Oxfordshire area, runs a private acupuncture and shiatsu practice in Oxford and teaches Iyengar yoga.
